CHRISTMAS CHARITY DRIVE

Name of the Tradition: Christmas Charity Drive

Explanation: Employees contribute to a charitable cause, such as donating food, clothing, or toys.

Country of Origin: Western countries (popular in both UK and US)

Cultural Hazards:

- Not understanding the concept or the chosen charity.
- May feel obliged to contribute.

Survival Tips:

- If you're unfamiliar with the charity, it's okay to ask colleagues or look it up.
- Any contribution, however small, is valued; don't feel pressured to give a lot.
- You can also contribute by helping organize the drive, not just by donating.

CONVERSATION STARTERS:

- What charity do you think the office should support this Christmas?
- Have you participated in a Christmas charity drive before?
- Do you prefer group charitable activities or individual contributions?
